MUST explain why it is not attached.

What happened? Where? When?

June (2016)
I was flying from Vancouver to Thunder Bay on July 16, 2016. My flight was delayed 3 hours approx.. The result was that I had to overnight in Toronto and got home the next day. This resulted in a lost day at work and additional costs.

Plaintiff

-and-

AIR CANADA

Defendant

STATEMENT OF DEFENCE

1. Unless expressly admitted elsewhere in this Defence, Air Canada expressly denies each and every allegation contained in the Claim as against it and puts the Plaintiff to the strict proof thereof;
2. Air Canada is an air carrier specialized in the carriage of passengers, baggage and cargo and duly authorized to operate its activities in the Canadian and international air transportation field;
3. Air Canada entered into a contract of carriage by air with the Plaintiff for carriage on flights AC1108 and AC8547 from Vancouver, to Thunder Bay, on June 16, 2016;
4. Flight AC1108 having been delayed for reasons out of Air Canada's control, the Plaintiff missed his connecting flight from Toronto to Thunder Bay. Air Canada rebooked him on the next available flight to Thunder Bay the next day;
5. Air Canada pleads and relies on the General Conditions of the contract of carriage between the Plaintiff and Air Canada as contained in the passenger ticket. Air Canada further relies on the Terms and Conditions of the contract of carriage between the Plaintiff and Air Canada, including the terms incorporated into the contract of carriage and contained in Air Canada's Tariff published and made available in accordance with regulations under the Canada Transportation Act, S.C. 1996, c. C-10;
6. Air Canada denies that the Plaintiff suffered any losses/damages and puts the Plaintiffs to the strict proof thereof;
7. Air Canada pleads that if it is liable for any damages, which is specifically denied, the Plaintiff's Claim is subject to the restrictions and limitations of liability in accordance with the Carriage by Air Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-26;

8. In the further alternative, if the Plaintiff suffered damages, which is specifically denied, Air Canada pleads that the damages sought by the Plaintiff are excessive, too remote and were not caused by it;
9. Air Canada therefore submits that this action be dismissed as against it with costs.
